

The Wisdom in Saving

A man who saves a dollar is a benefactor; one who teaches another to save a dollar is a public benefactor and should be knighted by the state. A dollar put in the bank at compound interest takes root instantly; it is not parched or burned by droughts; not killed by frost or sleet. It cannot be injured by heat or cold, by famine or pestilence, by fire or flood. It will not be lost through a hole in the pocket, nor borrowed by some pestilential friend or boon companion. It is beyond the reach of earthquakes or lightning, accident, sneak thief, thug or murderer. It works for you by day and by night, Sundays, legal holidays and week days are all the same to it. It will not rust nor rot, nor be eaten by worms. It will sprout and mature a crop of interest for you every year throughout all eternity and then be as fresh and as ready to go on working for you and your descendants as the day it was first carried to the bank. It will be a slave that never eats, drinks nor sleeps, nor dies, and needs no overseer.

The investment of money in a savings account at the bank at compound interest is the best investment, the most profitable business and the greatest and grandest speculation that I know anything about.

PRICE AND VICINITY

Traveling Fireman Ernest James visited relatives here Sunday.

Engineer William Gibson of Helper was a business visitor to Price Monday.

R. Reynolds, fireman of the Scofield branch, visited in Price over Sunday.

The Advocate has to press a new directory for the Eastern Utah Telephone company that will be out within a few days.

Price hotel registers are showing up better now that the commercial men are getting out of the cities after the holidays spent at home.

Valerio & Poma, doing business at Scofield for a number of years, have made an assignment to W. D. Stillman for the benefit of creditors.

Price real estate dealers report an increased inquiry for farms for rent up and down the Price river. Most of the applicants are from the outside.

Salt Lake City Brewing company, which recently closed out George W. Brandon's saloon business at Price, has shipped the Brandon fixtures to Zion.

At least four new business houses are planned for Main street in Price during early spring. Contractors are confident of a prosperous year during 1915.

Dr. E. F. Chamberlain has rented office rooms on the second floor of the new Willis building and will move thereto with the completion of the block.

Invitations have been issued for a card party with dancing at City Hall tomorrow evening, by the Brotherhood of American Yeomen. Eight o'clock.

Helper Mercantile company, dispensers of goods at wholesale in the railroad town, has recently added a substantial addition to its ice house and refrigerating plant.

Martin Mullerich of Black Hawk has been figuring with several Price real estate owners on ground upon which he will erect a business block if he gets what suits him.

John Aronson was down from Kenilworth last Monday. There are now two saloons at that camp, "each" surviving to death," says he. The mine is working five and six days a week.

The Denver and Rio Grande is still doing business in a boxcar at Scofield, the burned depot and warehouse not as yet having been rebuilt. There is talk of a new structure in the spring.

J. H. James of Price is still at Salt Lake City under the care of a physician. However, his health is said to be steadily improving, which is good news to his friends throughout Carbon county.

John C. Forester has recently received still more good news from a gold mine in Oregon of which himself and two brothers are the owners. They are said to be on the eve of a good sale.

The Denver and Rio Grande and the Union Pacific railroads are each hauling to Ogden for the poor five cars of coal, the former from Carbon county mines and the latter from the mines of Wyoming.

R. A. Kirker, who made many of the original coal entries at Sunnyside, writes friends at Price that he has good chances for the sale of his coal lands holdings near New Harmony in Washington county. He is making headquarters at Cedar City for the winter months.

The road from Price to the reservation country seems to have the preference these days with freighters over the route from Colton or from Helper. Most of the freight going in now is wagon in by way of Price.

Earl Thiers, who was in the same company with Claude Averill at Honolulu, is visiting the latter and may decide to remain in Carbon county. He is from Wisconsin and stopped over in Price on his return home.

Judge F. E. Woods last Tuesday received notification of his appointment in Eastern Utah as attorney for the Denver and Rio Grande. Judge Woods succeeds C. C. McWhinney, resigned, who is to make his home in California.

Resumption of work at the Anconada, Mont., smelters and at the Salt Lake Valley plants is expected to help along the coal and coke trade of Carbon county, especially at Sunnyside, where all the coke of this state is produced.

Lewis Evans visited in Salt Lake over Sunday. He reports Jack James getting along slowly from his recent sickness. Mr. James will be compelled to remain in Zion for several months yet under the attention of his physicians.

Carbon county high school, the Price academy and the public schools of Price "took up" last Monday after the holidays recess. Few students have dropped out, the attendance at all being up to the average for this time of year.

Local baseball enthusiasts are figuring to obtain a lease from the Williams estate on a tract of land south of the railroad tracks for a baseball ground. It is argued that City Park is too far distant from the city to attract a crowd.

W. H. Cunder, general agent for the Denver and Rio Grande at Colorado Springs, Colo., has been appointed assistant general passenger agent for the Denver and Rio Grande and the Colorado Southern railroads, with headquarters at Denver.

Mrs. Fred Sanford will serve during the present month as deputy county clerk. County Clerk E. R. Horsley not having made his appointment for another deputy as yet, and upon his request Mrs. Sanford will continue her duties for the balance of January.

There are some vacant dwellings at Price at this time, but few of them of a desirable kind. As the better classes of residences are empty they are taken generally at reduced rents and the poorer ones vacated. Few desirable ones go long without tenants.

Local dealers are quoting baled alfalfa at nine dollars the ton with any quantity of locally raised stuff to draw from. Last year, says one dealer in Price, he shipped in a hundred and twenty-five cars of hay. The conditions this time last year are more than reversed.

J. M. Miller, Colton's leading merchant, has recently installed an automatic gasoline tank in front of his store, which travelers through that section find a very great convenience, especially those from the reservation country. It is the first and the last chance, as it were, between Price and Provo.

O. C. Duke of Salina, Kan., is in Southern Utah at this time buying horses for the European nations at war and is expected to take a thousand and animals out of that section of the state. He may be communicated with by parties having a number of horses for sale by addressing the Salt Lake Commercial club.

Price banking houses state that the money market is easing up some since the first of the year. Few applications for loans are being made. Numerous ones out are being paid off. The steadier working of the coal camps is easing the situation some in the matter of collections with business houses as well as helping trade generally.

W. B. Steele, who claims to be a graduate of the engineering school at Cornell University, is in jail at Salt Lake City to await trial on a charge of having obtained money and credit at Price and Green River while representing himself as an agent of the federal geological survey. Steele claims to have a wife and child in Oregon.

Helper has seventeen or eighteen saloons against Price's thirteen at this time. It is predicted that several at both towns will be forced to close at almost any time because of lack of patronage. Even in the coal camps, where the thirst parlor has everything to themselves, proprietors are complaining of the hard times and general lack of prosperity as it used to be.

Mrs. Helen J. Hanson, mother of Mrs. Harry Ackerman, is visiting her daughter. Mrs. Hanson's home is at Levan. The Hansons will be remembered by the early settlers. Mr. Hanson having been in the contracting business in this section when the D. & R. G. was building through this section. He was contractor for some of the construction work of the road over Soldier Summit.

Miss Violet Mentzer, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mentzer, Jr., of Winter Quarters, was married at Price on Wednesday of last week to Willie Johnson, a popular young man of the upper mining town. They are to make their home at Winter Quarters, and have since been receiving congratulations of their many friends with numerous social affairs since the marriage in their honor.

Dressed pork, turkeys, chickens and beef is being handled in the coal camps adjacent to Price by peddlers at prices fully 25 per cent less than the same time last year and with one buyer or customer now in a half dozen formerly. Residents of the mining camps, where work has been slim for all employees for months, simply do not have the money. The camp stores, however, generally report slight improvement in business.

Harmon Moltz is very much impressed with Arkansas as an undeveloped country and is making efforts to sell out at Price, in which event he will return to Rogers in that state. Around Rogers is a great agricultural, horticultural and timber section. The state has lots of land not yet taken up, which is also true of the national government. Living is reasonable and the people there know not what hard times are. He has recently returned from Arkansas.

Surveyors said to be in the employ of "Uncle" Jesse Knight have lately run a line for a railroad from Helper around the rim of mountains north of Price to Coal Creek. Jesse Knight has large coal land holdings all along the route. This is practically the same survey as was made many years ago by the Denver and Rio Grande to run from Sunnyside to a point in the vicinity of Panther Canyon, below Castle Gate. It would give the Sunnyside coal and that proposed to be tapped about a 2 per cent grade from Sunnyside west.

George Robinson, a former resident of Grand Junction, Colo., and the father of the Robinson brothers who at one time conducted the first picture show at Price, was buried at Salt Lake City last Sunday. The funeral was from the Masonic temple and under the auspices of Argenta lodge of that city. Deceased was 54 years of age. Death was due to pneumonia. Frank Robinson of Price, a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Fausett, attended his father the last several days previous to his demise. Rev. P. A. Simpson delivered the funeral address.

Attorney L. A. McGee arrived in Price Monday and will move his family here shortly. Mr. McGee believes Price will prove to be an excellent field and intends to grow up with Eastern Utah. For the present he will have offices with Carbon County Abstract company and upon its completion take office in the Willis building. Mr. McGee is a graduate of the George Washington Law school and before entering the government service as postoffice inspector, in which capacity he served for a period of seven years, practiced law for two years in Salt Lake City.

Dr. I. K. Rumphrey, well and pleasantly remembered in Price at the time of the building of the Price River irrigation company's big canal and the reservoir in Gooseberry Valley as the company's physician and surgeon, was married at Pueblo, Colo., yesterday, to Miss Dorothy Ingram, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ingram of Salt Lake City. After the wedding the young people left for an extended trip, going to Chicago, New York, Cuba and home by way of Florida and New Orleans, taking in the Mardi Gras festivities in the latter city in February. They will make their home at Salt Lake City, the groom being associated with Dr. J. S. Critchlow, surgeon for the Denver and Rio Grande and the Western Pacific systems.

Next Sunday, January 10th, has been officially designated as Betterment Day. In the outlines for parents' classes this is the subject which has been given to be taken up by this organization on that day. It is suggested by the heads of the league at Salt Lake City that such subjects as the liquor habit, public dance halls, dangers and temptations of cabarets, wine and beer gardens, roadhouse resorts, care in conduct of resorts and parks, cigarette smoking, swearing habit, observing the Sabbath, good influence of home life, election of good men to public office who will enforce the laws, vaudeville and picture shows should be clean and not suggestive, pride in city and home surroundings be taken up and discussed.

Matt Warner returned Tuesday from a several weeks' trip to the Blackfoot, Ida., country. He says he likes Carbon county the best. In that particular section of the Gem state there are no mountains to interfere with very extensive agriculture, and, as a result, as far as the eye can reach nothing can be seen but cultivated farms. The produce this year, however, is not salable for anything like ordinary values. Potatoes are worth but forty cents a hundred and dressed pork four and a half cents a pound. Nearly the whole of that section of Idaho is dry, yet Warner says that whiskey is everywhere and that the bootleggers are doing a prosperous business. They have become so bold that they make but little effort to hide their operations and in Idaho Falls, a prohibition town, one runs into John Barleycorn at every turn.

McCLURE WILSON COUNCILMAN

Elected at Last Regular Meeting, Following Kirkpatrick Resignation.

McClure Wilson is the new member of the city council, having been elected to that position at the regular meeting Tuesday night to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of R. H. Kirkpatrick. Mr. Wilson's name was on motion placed in nomination by Councilman J. F. Pace and Councilman A. W. McKinnon by an amendment to the motion offered the name of Henry G. Mathis. A vote on the amendment resulted in a tie. A vote on the original motion resulted in a tie also and Mayor Gunderson cast the deciding vote in favor of Mr. Wilson.

The vote on the two nominees was as follows:

For McClure Wilson, republican—Pace, Leifbourn, Gunderson.

For Henry G. Mathis, progressive—A. W. McKinnon and E. R. Horsley.

McKinnon reported that option by the city on 2698 shares of water stock had expired, and, on motion Mr. McKinnon was instructed to renew the option in question and if possible secure additional options on the same class of stock to the amount of three thousand shares.

H. J. Torner, engineer for the city of Price, submitted and filed his certified plat of all the sidewalk paving and street crossings. His report was duly received and will be checked up by the recorder before being officially accepted by the council.

The residents in the extreme southeastern part of the town were up again for the extension of the electrical system. Matter was referred to the light committee.

The steel casings for the boilers for the power house, it was reported, were on the way.

Among the claims was one for a $2500 note at the Price Commercial which was ordered paid.

NEW OFFICIALS TAKE CHARGE

Sworn In at Noon Monday; No Change in Three Offices.

At noon Monday the newly elected county officers took oath of office and commenced on their respective official duties.

There are, however, not all new faces around the court house, as County Clerk Horsley, Treasurer Balfinger and Sheriff Keiter and their former office forces, still continue at their last two years' quarters beneath the goddess of justice.

County Attorney Fouts, Superintendent of Schools S. A. Gidding, Surveyor John H. Forrester and Mrs. Barbara Forrester and her daughter, Miss Barbara Forrester, were the new officials inducted into office with offices at the court house. The two new commissioners, William T. Hamilton, succeeding himself, and Albert Bryner, succeeding Benton Randolph, were also present to receive the oath of office.

Two hours later each above mentioned official, with the exception of E. R. Horsley and Mrs. Barbara Forrester, appeared in court through their attorneys to answer contest proceedings for their positions.

MAKES SPLENDID RECORD

Spring Canyon Coal Company Large and Steady Producer.

During the month of December the Spring Canyon Coal mine worked every day with the exception of Christmas and two Sundays. The output for the month was 11,824 tons and even with this production many orders were not filled. The daily average was 1126 tons.

So far during the present month the property has worked continuously with the exception of last Sunday and there is every prospect that the record of December will be maintained during January.

This is a splendid record, and especially so when it is taken into consideration that the Storm mine furnishes its product almost exclusively to the commercial and domestic trade, with the exception of two hundred tons per week which goes to the San Pedro railroad. The reason assigned by the company for the big demand for its product is because it is specially prepared for the market and therefore easily meets the wants of discriminating customers.

Remains of A. C. Harvey Buried.

The remains of A. C. Harvey, who was killed at Helper a week ago last Thursday, were buried in the local cemetery Tuesday. The county agreed to stand its usual portion of the expense in such cases where the deceased leaves no estate and friends and acquaintances of the dead man made up the balance in order to give him something better than a pauper's burial.

Cough Medicine For Children.

Never give a child a cough medicine that contains opium in any form. When opium is given other and more serious diseases may follow. Long experience has demonstrated that there is no better or safer medicine for cough, colds and croup in children than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is equally valuable for adults. Try it. It contains no opium or other harmful drug. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.
